

Dear Young Researchers,

We would like to invite you to take part in the 5th edition of MycoRise Up! Youth Mycology Conference which will be held in Cracow between the 25th and 26th of May 2024. The conference is co-organised by the Students Naturalist Association of the Jagiellonian University, Polish Mycological Society and the Faculty of Biology of the Jagiellonian University.

The aim of the conference is to give young researchers, such as undergraduate, masters and PhD students an opportunity to exchange mycological knowledge and gain experience in presenting scientific research. The event is kept in a friendly, non-judgemental atmosphere, so everyone is welcome to participate. We accept only active participants presenting their own research or literature reviews. You can present:

- a 12 minute talk (with additional 3 minutes for discussion)
- or a poster (A0, printed by the participant)

The thematical scope of the conference is very broad – we accept presentations concerning everything connected to mycology (i.e. fungi and fungi-like organisms). Titles of the talk sessions will be announced after receiving abstracts, based on the interests of the participants.

The Scientific Committee will accept presentations on the basis of the abstract evaluation. Abstracts submitted after the deadline will not be included in the abstract book. Submission of abstracts will be held via Google Forms.

The conference fee amounts to 50 PLN. Payments should be sent to the Students' Naturalist Association's account:
